"This Council, recognising that some public service workers will receive pay increases in 2010, believe it is unjust to make no pay offer this year to local authority workers, especially to the lowest paid staff.

This Council calls on the National Employers to now make an offer in the context of the Government's future one percent limit on public sector pay.

Council further calls for an examination of the adoption of a local living wage along the lines of similar policies adopted in Manchester, Oxford and London."
