- 3.7 Review of performance 2005/6 a full listing of the key achievements 2005/6 can be found in Appendix 1 Section 3 the Business Plan. Key achievements of particular note include: -
- 3.7.1 Coventry City Centre Business Improvement District (B.I.D.) came into effect 1/4/05 one of the first to achieve a successful vote in the country.
- 3.7.2 The company have received numerous awards including, Gold Award and category winner for Heart of England in Bloom, Short listed in the Heart of England Excellence in Tourism awards and the Coventry Evening Telegraph Business Awards for the Company's Service excellence programme and Double merit winner in the British Council of Shopping Centre' Purple Apple Awards for marketing and promotional campaigns.
- 3.7.3 The innovative Business Vitality programme created 19 new businesses and 135 new jobs. Its success was recognised with the Association of Town Centre Management regional award and in winning a Purple Apple Award
- 3.7.4 It is also worth highlighting the difficult financial challenge CV One faced during this year. This time last year a deficit of £524,000 for the year 2006/7 had been identified. Consideration was given to its priorities and refocusing of activities which led to potential redundancies being announced. It has now been recognised that a key priority will be to rebuild staff confidence after this difficult period. CV One need to be applauded for dealing with this budget deficit 'in-house' with a resulting expected modest surplus of £9,000 in 2006/7.

3.8 Performance Indicators

- 3.9 Future Development of CV One activities Appendix 1 Section 4 of the Business Plan identifies the key areas of activity to be undertaken in respect of the company's strategic priorities for the next 3 years. It does not include ongoing or routine work, but rather introduces the main areas for development and improvement. The following highlights some of the main proposed actions:
  - Changing perceptions A crucial area of activity is to ensure full advantage is taken of the new opportunities presented by the new visitor attractions, specifically the Ricoh arena and the Airport. There will also be a fundamental review of the Tourist information facilities and services and a re-design of the Events programme
  - Changing reality Continuing with the progress already made to the city centre environment the Business Plan include the design and implementation of an upgraded CCTV control Room and the successful retendering and award of the Cleansing and Grounds maintenance contract
  - Generating Economic Activity Specific challenge during 2006 is to ensure an effective exit strategy is in place for the Coventry Inspires projects, which comprises the successful, Ambassadors Programme and Godiva Awards.
  - Generating Sustainable Income Vitally important for the continuation of added value activities over and above the core contractual service CV One intend to address the ERDF grant fall-out in a number of ways: Delivering an effective CV One Sales Plan to deliver income targets, prepare for a successful revote on the city centre BID for 2008 and in addition develop a citywide BID business plan
  - Achieving Excellence through People CV One recognise the need to rebuild confidence in the workforce following the 2005 restructuring programme. In the programme for 2006 is the successful completion of 2006 Investors in People and the identification and acquisition of a single company base
  - Understanding Performance, Markets and Competition Work in this area is vital to ensure full understanding of the dynamics on which to make future business decisions. During this period CV One aims to establish a new business strategy capability, undertake further study on the impact of the Ricoh Arena and Arena Park developments and to undertake a baseline study for tourism in 2006. It is also planned to develop and implement the first stage of an effective partnership with south Warwickshire tourism.

4 Proposal and Other Option(s) to be considered

- 4.1 On the basis of current performance and achievements, it is recommended that the contract with CV One be extended for a further 12-month period to bring the termination date to 31st March 2011.
- 4.2 Discussions have taken place to improve the collection and use of the performance indicators. It is recommend that the performance indicators are changed as follows:

- 4.2.1 Measures to be added Total number of attendees at all Events (more detailed 6 monthly reporting is to be made to the Cabinet Member for Culture Leisure and Libraries) and statistics on usage and perception taken from the street and telephone surveys.
- 4.2.2 Measures to continue to be collected by CV One but used as overall indicators for the 'health' of the City Centre reflecting on the work of the City Development Directorate, CV One and outside agencies.

Car Park usage Park & Ride usage Voids

- 4.3 Variations Changes to the contract during 2005/6

CV ONE LIMITED
BUSINESS PLAN 2006-09

1 INTRODUCTION

As CV One enters its fifth year of operation the preparation of the annual business plan is presented in a slightly different format to provide a more focused and concise view of the Company's priorities for 2006-09.

CV One's previously stated vision and strategic priorities remain relevant and appropriate following a fundamental review of core business objectives and processes in 2005. The Company's recent restructuring now sees the organisation focused more clearly on its three core processes:

- Changing perceptions
- Changing reality and
- Generating economic activity

with critical support processes, namely:

- Generating sustainable income
- Achieving excellence through people and
- Understanding performance, markets and competition

sharing equal prominence in terms of work programmes for 2006-09.

What follows is a brief review of the challenges and opportunities which face the Company in the business plan period, a summary of key events and achievements in 2005-06 and finally an outline of business plan programmes and associated costings for 2006-07.

2 CHALLENGES AND OPPORTUNITIES 2006-09

- 2.1 In broad terms CV One's key objective is the promotion of Coventry and the surrounding area of Warwickshire as a visitor destination. Within this remit the Company has a specific responsibility for the management and promotion of Coventry city centre. Developments in both the retail and leisure sectors are therefore of particular interest and concern at both national and local level, whilst the city's image and profile remains a critical success factor in influencing decision makers and opinion formers.
- 2.2 Nationally retail performance in 2005 culminated in a 2.6% improvement in Christmas trading when compared with the previous year. The British Retail Consortium [BRC] has reported that trade picked up noticeably in the week before Christmas and then fell back markedly in the period up to the New Year. This was reflected locally where anecdotal evidence to date suggests that Coventry mirrored the national trend. The BRC has also highlighted the value conscious nature of 2005 Christmas trading with sales driven largely by promotions and the Shop Price Index down 0.64% on December 2004
  - Overall growth in sales was undoubtedly contained, however, by the significant increase in internet sales which were up 45% on 2004 figures [Interactive Media in Retail] and this will continue to impact on High Street sales potential
- 2.3 Locally, the recovery of the city centre remains fragile in the face of increasing competition in its traditional catchment market. As yet the full impact of the newly opened Arena Park in the north of the city is still to be determined. Early indications from the Company's own footfall data, supported by Lower Precinct and West Orchards, suggest a diversion of 6-8%, whilst the opening of the Ropewalk shopping centre in Nuneaton will also draw trade from the city's north eastern catchment. The findings of the 2005 on-street and household surveys also indicate that the Arena is already emerging as a significant alternative and additional centre to shopping in Coventry, second only to Birmingham in its first year of trading. Moreover, the closure of Allders in the city centre has seriously eroded the range and quality of the retail offer and whilst Primark are committed to reopen on the site in 2006 Coventry remains significantly underrepresented in terms of high quality fashion and department stores. Of those who identified areas for improvement in the 2005 on-street survey the majority, [23%], cited a better variety of shops as key to the city centre's future development

- 2.4 This in turn is reflected in the full year footfall figures for 2005 which show a 1.2% decline in the city centre. Coventry's figures suggest a slightly worse performance than the national average increase of 1.1% and the West Midlands of +0.2%* but it should be noted that both national and regional figures also reflect out of town retail performance and are not necessarily therefore a reliable indicator for town centres. Overall, the consensus of opinion within the city centre business community is that Coventry has to date seen limited diversion of trade but the full year impact of Arena Park is yet to be realised and there can be no relaxation of efforts to attract and retain visitors to the city centre.
- 2.5 In terms of the visitor economy it is as yet unclear as to whether the city has managed to exploit the increase in inbound visitors from both Coventry Airport and more recently the Ricoh Arena. Heart of England Tourism predicts employment in the sector to grow by 12% in the region by 2008. Nationally inbound visitors are forecast to increase by 4.4% in 2006 with the strongest growth coming from Asia and the emerging Eastern European markets. Coventry and the sub region are more likely in the short term to benefit from domestic and short haul visitors although the latest published figures for the Airport [April 2005] indicate that only 9% of passengers are visitors to the city. However, the recent change in Airport ownership and, as a consequence, the potential to increase the number of carriers based at Coventry suggest that there is a real opportunity to increase inbound tourism
- 2.5 In the city centre itself, planned new developments including the IKEA site, Belgrade Plaza, the Belgrade Theatre, the Herbert redevelopment and longer term the Swanswell will all add to the quality and diversity of the overall product offer. However, they will not provide the significant step change required to take Coventry into the premier league of retail and leisure rankings. Without a major new retail development within the city centre Coventry will continue to punch below its weight and fail to attract new brands and investment.
- 2.6 Similarly, whilst these planned new schemes are to be welcomed they will undoubtedly place increasing pressure on existing car park capacity and accessibility. In 2005 the city centre lost over 1,000 spaces to redevelopment schemes, a reduction in capacity of over 14% since June 2003. Once completed, the new Belgrade Plaza car park will double the existing capacity on the site, but if predictions are correct and the site itself generates the anticipated levels of car park usage, then the effect will be an overall increase in demand in the city centre. The introduction of IKEA in the city centre will also have a significant impact on demand for parking spaces. The store will be the first of its type actually located in a city centre environment and will create unique traffic issues. Although the scheme is to be welcomed and will have its own car park the likely [and preferred] outcome will be overspill into existing car parks. This will encourage dispersal of visitors across the city centre but will again add to the strain on the already stretched parking provision unless further capacity can be developed. The Christmas trading period in 2005 saw existing capacity severely tested and while the overall city centre offer is perceived as mediocre there is little incentive to brave the inconvenience of increasingly difficult access arrangements. Already initial findings from both the 2005 on-street and household surveys are suggesting an increasing gap between customer expectations and satisfaction levels with both car access and ease of parking, whilst in terms of value for money, short stay car park charges are perceived less favourably than those in competitive centres.

2.7 At a national level, however, the city appears to be divesting itself of some of its more negative perceptions. The city came 5th in a table of the top 20 UK cities, compiled by Growing Business Magazine from official statistics across a range of key factors for business with only Glasgow, Birmingham, London and Edinburgh rated higher. Coventry scored well across a range of categories - workforce skills, school performance, average traffic speeds and business solvency. Its business rates and house prices were also more affordable than many of its closest competitors. But the city's most striking and perhaps surprising success was in public safety. The crime rate in Coventry is lower per head of population than in any other major UK city. This is borne out by the year on vear improvement in perceptions of safety in the Company's on-street and household surveys. Traditionally fear of crime has always been strongest in the evenings but the surveys have shown a steady decline in the percentage of people feeling unsafe in the evenings, attributable in part to a more visible uniformed presence on the streets and a range of environmental improvements including cleansing and lighting. New, partnership led, initiatives include a programme of early intervention by the police issuing fixed penalty notices for less serious offences that in turn prevent more serious crime occurring. In addition, mini AMEC's (Alcohol Misuse Enforcement Campaigns) are tackling the issue of under age drinking and then delivering a programme of positive activities to prevent re-offending. However, the 35% of on-street survey respondents who still feel unsafe in the city centre in the evening remains an area for concern and there is certainly no room for complacency.

Nevertheless, Coventry's performance in the survey confounds many of the perceptions about the city and is borne out by the findings of a whole range of recent studies into business growth. In 2004 a survey commissioned by Cable & Wireless picked out Coventry, alongside Aberdeen and Southampton, as the cities best placed to grow their business communities over the next decade. Knight Frank, Britain's leading property specialist, recently identified and recommended Coventry as a place in which investors could expect good capital growth. AWM, the regional development agency for the West Midlands, has identified Coventry and Warwickshire as its fastest growing sub-region, and a new survey of business start-ups by Barclays found a bigger increase in new entrepreneurs in Coventry last year than anywhere else in the West Midlands.

- At a regional level too, the city's potential to grow its business tourism sector is gaining wider recognition. Whilst the Arena Park retail development represents a well documented threat to the city centre, the 3m visitors a year forecast to visit the site once it is fully developed represent a yet to be realised opportunity. This in turn offers the prospect of combining the business tourism market with the attractive leisure offer in south Warwickshire and where appropriate to work in partnership with both local authorities and South Warwickshire Tourism [SWT]. Discussions are already underway to identify the added value and economies of scale that could be achieved through closer working relationships and this represents a real opportunity for both companies in 2006.
- 2.9 Of paramount importance, however, is the Company's relationship with its core funder, Coventry City Council. The formation of a Joint Working Party in 2005 offers the Company an unrivalled opportunity to influence and contribute to City Council policy and strategy and to work in partnership to develop a longer term vision for the city. This may require a realignment of CVOne's business and financial planning cycle to tie in with the Council's own budget setting process but the opportunity to access additional Council funding for agreed priorities more than merits this minor adjustment to CV One's planning schedule.
- 2.10 Many of the challenges and opportunities identified above are of external origin. CV One continues to face a number of internal pressures, however, which are equally challenging and demanding. The fall out of ERDF funding has largely been addressed through the Company's 2005 restructuring but containing costs and identifying alternative sources of sustainable income remains a constant pressure. The ongoing problem of the Company's pension's deficit will not be resolved during the business plan period and must remain under continuous review. In the short term, however, a major challenge must be the rebuilding of morale and employee confidence following the restructuring programme and associated redundancies of 2005.

3. KEY EVENTS AND ACHIEVEMENTS 2005-06

The City Council's own independent monitoring programme also recorded a

- significant improvement in city centre cleansing under the BVPI 199 monitoring system.
- 3.16 Similarly the 2005 surveys reflected a continued decline in the numbers of respondents who feel unsafe in the city centre, reflecting a 0.5% reduction in overall crime in the city centre in the course of the year.
- 3.17 Significant progress was achieved in respect of a number of the Ambassadors Group projects, namely the fourth spire, [now the subject of a Big Lottery Fund bid], the Civic Hall, the HQ Project [in pursuit of the Lyons Report recommendations] and a steering group established to promote the city region as a training camp for the London 2012 Olympics
- 3.18 The Company introduced a regular Farmers Market in association with the Spon Street traders and with the support of the city's Retail Market
- 3.19 Evening Ambassadors were introduced in Birmingham and Chelmsford based upon the success of the Coventry model
- 3.20 In conjunction with the City Council, a stage 1 feasibility study into the restoration of Draper's Hall was commissioned and completed.
- 3.21 The Company's first Destination Management System was selected and commissioned, with installation now in progress.
- 3.22 The Company successfully underwent the City Council's audit of performance to achieve the outcomes of the first Public Service Agreement, [although payment of the reward grant is still awaited]
- 3.23 In conjunction with the Cathedral and City Council, the Company led the planning and organisation of the visit by Yoko Ono to commemorate the siting of a peace bench in the city by John and Yoko
- 3.24 In 2005 CV One achieved an overall increase in press coverage of 59% in terms of column centimetres and 178% in air time

4 BUSINESS PLAN PROGRAMMES 2006-09

4.1 As indicated earlier, the presentation of the 2006-09 business plan has been revised to focus more clearly on the Company's core processes and key priorities. It is not therefore proposed to include ongoing or routine work programmes in this document but rather to identify the key areas of activity to be undertaken in respect of the Company's strategic priorities for the next three years. These have been identified through a detailed evaluation of the threats and opportunities outlined in section 2 and an internal assessment of those areas which the Company can realistically address within it sphere of competence. They are as follows:

4.2 Changing Perceptions

These programmes aim to take advantage of the opportunities presented by the new visitor attractions within the city, specifically the Ricoh Arena and the Airport. They are designed to encourage trial, repeat visits and improve the accessibility of information and visitor services. They will also build upon the very real progress made to date in enhancing the city's image whilst recognising the significant task that remains in respect of this critical success factor.

- A fundamental review of Tourist Information facilities and services based upon international models of best practice
- The completion and implementation of the recently commissioned ICT strategy to include integration of the Company's new Destination Management System
- The development and implementation of an effective Marketing and PR Strategy
- The review, evaluation and redesign of Events programme

4.3 Changing Reality

These programmes aim to build upon the progress made to date in improving the city centre environment recognising the fundamental importance placed upon cleanliness and safety as evidenced in survey findings. They also seek to address potential areas of weakness in the city centre offer where the Company can play a role in enhancing the provision of facilities and services whilst minimising and managing the inevitable disruption arising from planned new developments.

The design and implementation of an upgraded CCTV Control Room

- The successful retendering and award of the Cleansing & Grounds Maintenance contract
- The planning and introduction of an effective strategy to anticipate and minimise disruption arising from development schemes in progress
- In conjunction with the City Council the development of an effective car park / transport strategy
- In partnership with other agencies, an evaluation and review of the city centre evening economy and usage patterns to identify and implement programmes of action to extend the user profile and thereby maximise visitor satisfaction, dwell time and expenditure

4.4 Generating Economic Activity

These programmes address the very real challenge of enhancing the city centre product offer, individually targeting preferred brands and products in the absence of any short term solution and encouraging the placement of events and conferences within the city, whilst supporting the promotion of inward investment on a wider scale.

- The development of a new in-house capability
- The development and implementation of an effective exit strategy for the Coventry Inspires project to enable its continuation beyond 2007
- The marketing and promotion of the city as an attractive destination for international events, exhibitions and competitions
- The establishment and effective penetration of opinion formers networks at a regional and national level

4.5 Generating Sustainable Income

Funding programmes here address the need for the Company to identify sustainable sources of income to compensate for grant fallout and allow the continuation of added value activities and improvement programmes over and above core contractual service

- The development and implementation of an effective CV One Sales Plan to deliver budgeted income targets
- The successful implementation of exit strategies and ongoing monitoring of ERDF grant funded projects
- The development and implementation of an effective marketing and communications strategy in preparation for the revote on the city centre BID in 2008
- The development of the citywide BID business plan and the associated income generation opportunities

- The transfer of the Citynet asset into CV One ownership thereby enhancing opportunities to maximise its value and lever partner income.

4.6 Achieving Excellence through People

Programmes here recognise the need to reassure and rebuild confidence in the workforce following the 2005 restructuring programme whilst continuing to harness the enthusiasm and expertise of CV One employees to deliver competitive advantage n the overall visitor experience.

- Successful completion of the 2006 Investors in People reassessment
- The identification and acquisition of a single Company base
- An evaluation and where appropriate review of the Company's Performance Related Pay structure
- The development and implementation of an effective employee relations and communications strategy to rebuild employee confidence and morale following the 2005 restructuring programme
- An ongoing review of the Company's pension fund provision with a view to limiting its future liability and addressing the current deficit

4.7 Understanding Performance, Markets and Competition

These programmes are vital to ensure an ongoing understanding of the city's performance, the early identification of competitive threats and potential opportunities and where possible to change perceptions and promote new investment.

- The establishment of a new and effective business strategy capability, which recognises the critical role of objective, targeted and timely research data in influencing opinion formers and changing perceptions
- The development and implementation of the first stage of an effective partnership agreement with SWT.
- A further benchmarking study on the positive and negative impact of the Ricoh Arena and Arena Park developments to enable the Company to combat the threats whilst taking full advantage of the opportunities offered by the development and lessons learned elsewhere
- An increased emphasis on tourism research through the establishment of a baseline study in 2006

5. Financial forecasts 2006-09

- A summary of the financial forecasts for CV One Limited for 2006-07 and 2007-08 are shown at Appendix I. In brief, this shows a projected surplus of £9,000 in year 1 which is recognised to be far from ideal in providing any contingency for unanticipated expenditure within the year. However, in view of the scale of the projected deficit in earlier drafts, [£650,000 arising largely from the fall out of grant funding], it was felt that the plan represented a significant improvement on the start point and as such was now at a stage where it could serve as a first draft budget for 2006-07.
- 5.2 Income assumptions for the year are fairly conservative but do assume that the formation of a dedicated Sales activity will generate funding through new initiatives whilst increasing existing commercial and sponsorship income.
- 5.3 Estimates of expenditure are largely based upon previous levels of activity with which we are by now broadly familiar, plus any additional work programmes identified within the business plan.
