SEATING ARRANGEMENTS

(See Condition 15)

1. Seating and Gangways

- (1) Seats and gangways in the auditorium or hall should be so arranged as to allow free and ready access direct to the exits from the auditorium or hall.
- (2) No portion of any gangway should be more than 18m from an exit from the auditorium or hall measured along the line of the gangway.
- (3) The seating area assigned to each person should not be less than:
 - (a) (i) 760mm deep where backs are provided to the seats;
(ii) 600mm deep where backs are not provided to the seats;
 - (b) (i) 500mm wide where arms are provided to the seats;
(ii) 450mm wide where arms are not provided to the seats.
- (4) (a) There should be a clear seatway or space at least 300mm measured between perpendiculars from the back of one seat unit to the front of the seat unit immediately behind.
(b) Where seats tip up automatically, the clear seatway should be measured between the back of one seat unit and the maximum projection of the seat unit behind when the seat is in the 'up' position and such seats should be actuated by weights, springs or other automatic devices.
- (5) Subject to the provisions of item 2 hereunder, the number of seats in a row should not exceed:
 - (a) (i) seven seats where there is a gangway at one end only;
(ii) eleven seats where there is a gangway at one end only, provided that the seatway referred to in 1(4)(a) above is increased by 25mm for each additional seat over seven.
 - (b) (i) fourteen seats where there is a gangway at each end;
(ii) twenty-two seats where there is a gangway at each end provided that the seatway referred to in 1(4)(a) above is increased by 25mm for each additional pair of seats and/or any odd seat over fourteen.

2. Continental Seating

Continental seating refers to rows in which there are more than twenty-two seats. This arrangement may be permitted subject to the following additional requirements to those detailed in item 1.

- (1) No seat should be more than 15m from an exit measured along the line of travel.
- (2) Gangways or exits should be provided at each end of a row of seats. Where gangways are provided, the position of the exits and seating should be arranged so that the streams of persons leaving the seatway move in the gangways in a direction away from the stage or platform.

- (3) The clear seatway should be not less than 400mm and not more than 500mm.

3. Temporary Seating

Temporary seating can take a variety of forms. Where such seating is made up of rows of single seats, then the provisions of 4 below should apply.

However, special considerations may need to be given to temporary seating of the stepped tier type; where the audience is seated along the steps. Such considerations should include the provision of permanent gangways and handrails.

Where the seating arrangements of the stepped type are extensive then consideration will need to be given to the direct evacuation of persons from the rear of the seating which may be several feet from the floor level.

4. Fixing of Seating

- (1) Where permanent provision is made for a closely seated audience and in all cases of stepped tiers, all seating (except for chairs in boxes or other approved enclosures) should be fixed firmly to the floor.
- (2) In other situations:
 - (a) all chairs or other single seats (except chairs in boxes or other enclosures) should be secured together in lengths of not fewer than four seats, and
 - (b) when the permitted number exceeds 400 persons provision should be made for fixing to the floor the rows of seating flanking the front, the back and the cross gangways and the seats near exits, except that:
 - (i) only the end seats of such rows need to be fixed to the floor if all seats in each row are secured together, or
 - (ii) only the end seats of each length of seating referred to in (a) above which form such row need to be fixed to the floor.

NOTE: In premises intended to be used only occasionally for closely seated audiences where the fixing of seating to the floor is impractical or undesirable (e.g. on polished dance floors), the use of floorbars instead of floor screws, may be permitted. Such floor bars should be no more than 25mm in depth, have a chamfered top surface so as to avoid the risk of tripping persons using the seatways and should extend from the row to be fixed to at least two adjacent rows, but must not extend across the gangways.

5. Gangways

- (1) Gangways shall be of adequate width for the number of seats served, but shall in no case be less than 1m.
- (2) There shall be no projection which would diminish the clear width of the gangway and the ends of all rows and seats should be so aligned as to maintain a uniform width of gangway throughout its length.

- (3) Any stepped gangways/stairways with a total rise of more than 600mm should be provided with a handrail which is securely fixed at a height of not less than 840mm nor more than 1m, measured vertically above the pitch line. A staircase wider than 2m shall be provided with a centre handrail.
