Alternative Binley Cycleway Section 7

Binley Cycle Scheme Gulson Road to Biggin Hall Crescent Biggin Hall Crescent to Church Church Lane to Allard Way Allard Way Junction Allard Way to Brinklow Road Brandon Road to Brinklow Road Brinklow Road to Belgrave Road Belgrave Road to UHCW Alternative Section 7 (1) Alternative Section 7 (2)

Alternative Section 7 (3)

		Coherent		Di	rect		Safe
		concrene					Juic
Design Option	Should be designed to reach their day to	Charled 1/2 ha conjunt cities are confession	Consistent quality	As direct – and more direct – than those	Avoid stop starting as this may lead to cyclists	Descention of colots	Cubetandard widths are not cafe	Lighting and natural surveillance / Personal destinations	Shouldn't be unintuitive or confusing	Consistent quality	available for private motor vehicles.	in the carriageway which is more unsafe	Perception of safety	Substandard widths are not safe	Safety
5 1/					There are a number of side road junctions
Red (existing alignment)					along Clifford Bridge Road to provide access to		Corridor width along the length of the route is the nearby residential areas. Any infrastructure		>15m which is sufficient width for desirable	The road is already lit for the extent of the
	The route goes through residential areas of				proposals would have to ensure that cyclists		footway widths on both sides of the	route, and has direct frontage onto residential
		The route directly connects the two existing	Based on corridor widths along the length of		have priority over all of these side roads. Given		carriageway, desirable widths for a bidirectional sections of the Binely Cycleway which users are		The route follows Clifford Bridge Road meaning			cycle track, a 0.5m buffer and a carriageway	route to the Clifford Bridge Road/B4082 already familiar with, this scheme essentially	sufficient width to continue a fully protected	it has the same level of directness as motor	delivered section of the scheme, we have	Design has the potential to provide protection	width suitable for the Clifford Bridge Road	roundabout. North of this junction, there is no
	Clifford Bridge Academy.	fills the gap to deliver a continuous route.	facility which links the two existing routes.	vehicles	confidence this can be achieved.	of cyclists from motor traffic.	considering that it is a bus route	frontage onto any properties
		2	2	1	2	2	2	2
	The route goes through Stoke Floods Green and runs along the River Sowe, passing in close proximity to Caludon Castle School. Whilst the route could be considered more direct to a						To achieve desirable minimum cycle widths of	The route has very limited natural surveillance, Pink	specific destination, the route does not pass						3m (for shared use or a bidirectional cycle	especially in the northern sections of the route.
FIIIK	through residential area of Binley so many		The route goes through a section of dense	Whilst the route could be considered as more			track) this could require significant tree	Where the route passes residential dwellings to residents would have to take a more	Whilst the route requires cyclists to come off or		direct for some users between specific origins	The route features no junctions or crossing for		removal in the woodland sections of the route	the south of the route they are not that the existing on-carriageway cycle track, the	south of Westmorland Road - it is not clear if	and destinations, this would create an overall	cyclists to have to stop at apart from crossing		which may not be feasible and could result in	overlooked due to the orientation of the route beyond this is considered intuitive as it follows the River Sowe for large sections of the	the full effective width in accordance with guidelines is deliverable. Tree roots can cause	more convoluted route for those existing residents in Binley, or those wishing to travel to	Clifford Bridge Road to access the existing cycle		substandard cycle infrastructure widths. Evidence would be required to amend this	houses and the presence of fences at the end of most of the cul-de-sacs. The route is not infrastructure.	route.	long term damage to a cycle track.	the Business Park.	Way junction	Design has the potential to provide protection of cyclists from motor traffic.	score.	currently lit so lighting would be required illilastructure.
	1		1	0		2	0
		2	1		2			0
			1
	1 The route follows Mayflower Drive at it's southern extent, passing through a residential		1
	The route follows Mayflower Drive at it's southern extent, passing through a residential area before crossing the River Sowe through		1
	1 The route follows Mayflower Drive at it's southern extent, passing through a residential area before crossing the River Sowe through Stoke Floods Green, running along allotments	2	1
	The route follows Mayflower Drive at it's southern extent, passing through a residential area before crossing the River Sowe through Stoke Floods Green, running along allotments to the west of Clifford Bridge Road and	2 The route features multiple deviations as it	1					0
Groon	The route follows Mayflower Drive at it's southern extent, passing through a residential area before crossing the River Sowe through Stoke Floods Green, running along allotments to the west of Clifford Bridge Road and northwards on Clifford Bridge Road. Whilst the	The route features multiple deviations as it passes into and through Stoke Floods Green, as	1				0	0 The southern section of the route which follows
Green	The route follows Mayflower Drive at it's southern extent, passing through a residential area before crossing the River Sowe through Stoke Floods Green, running along allotments to the west of Clifford Bridge Road and northwards on Clifford Bridge Road. Whilst the route could be considered more direct to a	The route features multiple deviations as it passes into and through Stoke Floods Green, as well as deviating to follow the edge of the	1				0 To achieve desirable minimum cycle widths of	0 The southern section of the route which follows along Mayflower Drive has high levels of
Green	The route follows Mayflower Drive at it's southern extent, passing through a residential area before crossing the River Sowe through Stoke Floods Green, running along allotments to the west of Clifford Bridge Road and northwards on Clifford Bridge Road. Whilst the route could be considered more direct to a specific destination, the route does not pass	The route features multiple deviations as it passes into and through Stoke Floods Green, as well as deviating to follow the edge of the residential area and allotments to the west of	1	0			O To achieve desirable minimum cycle widths of 3m (for shared use or a bidirectional cycle	O The southern section of the route which follows along Mayflower Drive has high levels of natural surveillance as houses front onto the
Green	The route follows Mayflower Drive at it's southern extent, passing through a residential area before crossing the River Sowe through Stoke Floods Green, running along allotments to the west of Clifford Bridge Road and northwards on Clifford Bridge Road. Whilst the route could be considered more direct to a specific destination, the route does not pass through residential area of Binley so many	The route features multiple deviations as it passes into and through Stoke Floods Green, as well as deviating to follow the edge of the residential area and allotments to the west of Clifford Bridge Road. Compared to the red and	The route goes through a section of dense	0 Whilst the route could be considered as more	2		O To achieve desirable minimum cycle widths of 3m (for shared use or a bidirectional cycle track) this could require significant tree	The southern section of the route which follows along Mayflower Drive has high levels of natural surveillance as houses front onto the road, however the route northwards of
Green	The route follows Mayflower Drive at it's southern extent, passing through a residential area before crossing the River Sowe through Stoke Floods Green, running along allotments to the west of Clifford Bridge Road and northwards on Clifford Bridge Road. Whilst the route could be considered more direct to a specific destination, the route does not pass	The route features multiple deviations as it passes into and through Stoke Floods Green, as well as deviating to follow the edge of the residential area and allotments to the west of	The route goes through a section of dense	0			O To achieve desirable minimum cycle widths of 3m (for shared use or a bidirectional cycle	The southern section of the route which follows along Mayflower Drive has high levels of natural surveillance as houses front onto the road, however the route northwards of Dunrose Close has very limited natural
Green	The route follows Mayflower Drive at it's southern extent, passing through a residential area before crossing the River Sowe through Stoke Floods Green, running along allotments to the west of Clifford Bridge Road and northwards on Clifford Bridge Road. Whilst the route could be considered more direct to a specific destination, the route does not pass through residential area of Binley so many residents would have to take a more convoluted route to access the cycle track	The route features multiple deviations as it passes into and through 5toke Floods Green, as well as deviating to follow the edge of the residential area and allotments to the west of Clifford Bridge Road. Compared to the red and pink route the arrangement could be confusing	The route goes through a section of dense woodland when crossing the River Sowe to the	Whilst the route could be considered as more direct for some users between specific origins	2 The route features no junctions or crossing for	2	To achieve desirable minimum cycle widths of 3m (for shared use or a bidirectional cycle track) this could require significant tree removal in the woodland sections of the route	The southern section of the route which follows along Mayflower Drive has high levels of natural surveillance as houses front onto the road, however the route northwards of
Green	The route follows Mayflower Drive at it's southern extent, passing through a residential area before crossing the River Sowe through Stoke Floods Green, running along allotments to the west of Clifford Bridge Road and northwards on Clifford Bridge Road. Whilst the route could be considered more direct to a specific destination, the route does not pass through residential area of Binley so many residents would have to take a more convoluted route to access the cycle track which would significantly increase the journey	The route features multiple deviations as it passes into and through Stoke Floods Green, as well as deviating to follow the edge of the residential area and allotments to the west of Clifford Bridge Road. Compared to the red and pink route the arrangement could be confusing to follow and would be reliant on a strong	The route goes through a section of dense woodland when crossing the River Sowe to the south - it is not clear if the full effective width in accordance with guidelines is deliverable.	Whilst the route could be considered as more direct for some users between specific origins and destinations, this would create an overall	The route features no junctions or crossing for cyclists to have to stop at apart from crossing Clifford Bridge Road to access the existing cycle	2	To achieve desirable minimum cycle widths of 3m (for shared use or a bidirectional cycle track) this could require significant tree removal in the woodland sections of the route which may not be feasible and could result in	The southern section of the route which follows along Mayflower Drive has high levels of natural surveillance as houses front onto the road, however the route northwards of Dunrose Close has very limited natural surveillance. There is street lighting present on
Green	The route follows Mayflower Drive at it's southern extent, passing through a residential area before crossing the River Sowe through Stoke Floods Green, running along allotments to the west of Clifford Bridge Road and northwards on Clifford Bridge Road. Whilst the route could be considered more direct to a specific destination, the route does not pass through residential area of Binley so many residents would have to take a more convoluted route to access the cycle track which would significantly increase the journey time for cyclists wanting to use protected cycle infrastructure.	The route features multiple deviations as it passes into and through Stoke Floods Green, as well as deviating to follow the edge of the residential area and allotments to the west of Clifford Bridge Road. Compared to the red and hink route the arrangement could be confusing to follow and would be reliant on a strong wayfinding strategy. The route also hits	The route goes through a section of dense woodland when crossing the River Sowe to the south - it is not eith guidelines is deliverable. Tree roots can cause long term damage to a cycle track.	Whilst the route could be considered as more direct for some users between specific origins and destinations, this would create an overall more convoluted route for those existing residents in Binley, or those wishing to travel to the Business Park.	The route features no junctions or crossing for cyclists to have to stop at apart from crossing Clifford Bridge Road to access the existing cycle track at the Clifford Bridge Road/Dorchester Way junction	2 Design has the potential to provide protection	To achieve desirable minimum cycle widths of 3m (for shared use or a bidirectional cycle track) this could require significant tree removal in the woodland sections of the route which may not be feasible and could result in substandard cycle infrastructure widths. Evidence would be required to amend this score.	The southern section of the route which follows along Mayflower Drive has high levels of natural surveillance as houses front onto the road, however the route northwards of Dunrose Close has very limited natural surveillance. There is street lighting present on Mayflower Drive and Clifford Bridge Road however the section of the route that runs along Stoke Floods Green has no lighting
Green	The route follows Mayflower Drive at it's southern extent, passing through a residential area before crossing the River Sowe through Stoke Floods Green, running along allotments to the west of Clifford Bridge Road and northwards on Clifford Bridge Road. Whilst the route could be considered more direct to a specific destination, the route does not pass through residential area of Binley so many residents would have to take a more convoluted route to access the cycle track which would significantly increase the journey time for cyclists wanting to use protected cycle	The route features multiple deviations as it passes into and through Stoke Floods Green, as well as deviating to follow the edge of the residential area and allotments to the west of Clifford Bridge Road. Compared to the red and pink route the arrangement could be confusing to follow and would be reliant on a strong wayfinding strategy. The route also hits multiple decisions points through Stoke Floods	The route goes through a section of dense woodland when crossing the River Sowe to the south - it is not clear jif the full effective width in accordance with guidelines is deliverable. Tree roots can cause long term damage to a	Whilst the route could be considered as more direct for some users between specific origins and destinations, this would create an overall more convoluted route for those existing residents in Binley, or those wishing to travel to	The route features no junctions or crossing for cyclists to have to stop at apart from crossing Clifford Bridge Road to access the existing cycle track at the Clifford Bridge Road/Dorchester	Design has the potential to provide protection of cyclists from motor traffic apart from low	To achieve desirable minimum cycle widths of 3m (for shared use or a bidirectional cycle track) this could require significant tree removal in the woodland sections of the route which may not be feasible and could result in substandard cycle infrastructure widths. Evidence would be required to amend this	The southern section of the route which follows along Mayflower Drive has high levels of natural surveillance as houses front onto the road, however the route northwards of Dunrose Close has very limited natural surveillance. There is street lighting present on Mayflower Drive and Clifford Bridge Road however the section of the route that runs
Green	The route follows Mayflower Drive at it's southern extent, passing through a residential area before crossing the River Sowe through Stoke Floods Green, running along allotments to the west of Clifford Bridge Road and northwards on Clifford Bridge Road. Whilst the route could be considered more direct to a specific destination, the route does not pass through residential area of Binley so many residents would have to take a more convoluted route to access the cycle track which would significantly increase the journey time for cyclists wanting to use protected cycle infrastructure.	The route features multiple deviations as it passes into and through Stoke Floods Green, as well as deviating to follow the edge of the residential area and allotments to the west of Clifford Bridge Road. Compared to the red and pink route the arrangement could be confusing to follow and would be reliant on a strong wayfinding strategy. The route also hits multiple decisions points through Stoke Floods Green which could be confusing for some users	The route goes through a section of dense woodland when crossing the River Sowe to the south - it is not eith guidelines is deliverable. Tree roots can cause long term damage to a cycle track.	Whilst the route could be considered as more direct for some users between specific origins and destinations, this would create an overall more convoluted route for those existing residents in Binley, or those wishing to travel to the Business Park.	The route features no junctions or crossing for cyclists to have to stop at apart from crossing Clifford Bridge Road to access the existing cycle track at the Clifford Bridge Road/Dorchester Way junction	Design has the potential to provide protection of cyclists from motor traffic apart from low trafficked streets.	To achieve desirable minimum cycle widths of 3m (for shared use or a bidirectional cycle track) this could require significant tree removal in the woodland sections of the route which may not be feasible and could result in substandard cycle infrastructure widths. Evidence would be required to amend this score.	The southern section of the route which follows along Mayflower Drive has high levels of natural surveillance as houses front onto the road, however the route northwards of Dunrose Close has very limited natural surveillance. There is street lighting present on Mayflower Drive and Clifford Bridge Road however the section of the route that runs along Stoke Floods Green has no lighting
Green	The route follows Mayflower Drive at it's southern extent, passing through a residential area before crossing the River Sowe through Stoke Floods Green, running along allotments to the west of Clifford Bridge Road and northwards on Clifford Bridge Road. Whilst the route could be considered more direct to a specific destination, the route does not pass through residential area of Binley so many residents would have to take a more convoluted route to access the cycle track which would significantly increase the journey time for cyclists wanting to use protected cycle infrastructure.	The route features multiple deviations as it passes into and through Stoke Floods Green, as well as deviating to follow the edge of the residential area and allotments to the west of Clifford Bridge Road. Compared to the red and pink route the arrangement could be confusing to follow and would be reliant on a strong wayfinding strategy. The route also hits multiple decisions points through Stoke Floods Green which could be confusing for some users	The route goes through a section of dense woodland when crossing the River Sowe to the south - it is not eith guidelines is deliverable. Tree roots can cause long term damage to a cycle track.	Whilst the route could be considered as more direct for some users between specific origins and destinations, this would create an overall more convoluted route for those existing residents in Binley, or those wishing to travel to the Business Park.	The route features no junctions or crossing for cyclists to have to stop at apart from crossing Clifford Bridge Road to access the existing cycle track at the Clifford Bridge Road/Dorchester Way junction	Design has the potential to provide protection of cyclists from motor traffic apart from low trafficked streets.	To achieve desirable minimum cycle widths of 3m (for shared use or a bidirectional cycle track) this could require significant tree removal in the woodland sections of the route which may not be feasible and could result in substandard cycle infrastructure widths. Evidence would be required to amend this score.	The southern section of the route which follows along Mayflower Drive has high levels of natural surveillance as houses front onto the road, however the route northwards of Dunrose Close has very limited natural surveillance. There is street lighting present on Mayflower Drive and Clifford Bridge Road however the section of the route that runs along Stoke Floods Green has no lighting
Green	The route follows Mayflower Drive at it's southern extent, passing through a residential area before crossing the River Sowe through Stoke Floods Green, running along allotments to the west of Clifford Bridge Road and northwards on Clifford Bridge Road. Whilst the route could be considered more direct to a specific destination, the route does not pass through residential area of Binley so many residents would have to take a more convoluted route to access the cycle track which would significantly increase the journey time for cyclists wanting to use protected cycle infrastructure. 1 The route goes through Stoke Floods Green and runs along the Mayflower Drive estate before	The route features multiple deviations as it passes into and through Stoke Floods Green, as well as deviating to follow the edge of the residential area and allotments to the west of Clifford Bridge Road. Compared to the red and pink route the arrangement could be confusing to follow and would be reliant on a strong wayfinding strategy. The route also hits multiple decisions points through Stoke Floods Green which could be confusing for some users	The route goes through a section of dense woodland when crossing the River Sowe to the south - it is not eith guidelines is deliverable. Tree roots can cause long term damage to a cycle track.	Whilst the route could be considered as more direct for some users between specific origins and destinations, this would create an overall more convoluted route for those existing residents in Binley, or those wishing to travel to the Business Park.	The route features no junctions or crossing for cyclists to have to stop at apart from crossing Clifford Bridge Road to access the existing cycle track at the Clifford Bridge Road/Dorchester Way junction	Design has the potential to provide protection of cyclists from motor traffic apart from low trafficked streets.	To achieve desirable minimum cycle widths of 3m (for shared use or a bidirectional cycle track) this could require significant tree removal in the woodland sections of the route which may not be feasible and could result in substandard cycle infrastructure widths. Evidence would be required to amend this score.	The southern section of the route which follows along Mayflower Drive has high levels of natural surveillance as houses front onto the road, however the route northwards of Dunrose Close has very limited natural surveillance. There is street lighting present on Mayflower Drive and Clifford Bridge Road however the section of the route that runs along Stoke Floods Green has no lighting
Green	The route follows Mayflower Drive at it's southern extent, passing through a residential area before crossing the River Sowe through Stoke Floods Green, running along allotments to the west of Clifford Bridge Road and northwards on Clifford Bridge Road. Whilst the route could be considered more direct to a specific destination, the route does not pass through residential area of Binley so many residents would have to take a more convoluted route to access the cycle track which would significantly increase the journey time for cyclists wanting to use protected cycle infrastructure. 1 The route goes through Stoke Floods Green and runs along the Mayflower Drive estate before crossing the River Sowe, running along	The route features multiple deviations as it passes into and through Stoke Floods Green, as well as deviating to follow the edge of the residential area and allotments to the west of Clifford Bridge Road. Compared to the red and pink route the arrangement could be confusing to follow and would be reliant on a strong wayfinding strategy. The route also hits multiple decisions points through Stoke Floods Green which could be confusing for some users	The route goes through a section of dense woodland when crossing the River Sowe to the south - it is not eith guidelines is deliverable. Tree roots can cause long term damage to a cycle track.	Whilst the route could be considered as more direct for some users between specific origins and destinations, this would create an overall more convoluted route for those existing residents in Binley, or those wishing to travel to the Business Park.	The route features no junctions or crossing for cyclists to have to stop at apart from crossing Clifford Bridge Road to access the existing cycle track at the Clifford Bridge Road/Dorchester Way junction	Design has the potential to provide protection of cyclists from motor traffic apart from low trafficked streets.	To achieve desirable minimum cycle widths of 3m (for shared use or a bidirectional cycle track) this could require significant tree removal in the woodland sections of the route which may not be feasible and could result in substandard cycle infrastructure widths. Evidence would be required to amend this score.	The southern section of the route which follows along Mayflower Drive has high levels of natural surveillance as houses front onto the road, however the route northwards of Dunrose Close has very limited natural surveillance. There is street lighting present on Mayflower Drive and Clifford Bridge Road however the section of the route that runs along Stoke Floods Green has no lighting
Green	The route follows Mayflower Drive at it's southern extent, passing through a residential area before crossing the River Sowe through Stoke Floods Green, running along allotments to the west of Clifford Bridge Road and northwards on Clifford Bridge Road. Whilst the route could be considered more direct to a specific destination, the route does not pass through residential area of Binley so many residents would have to take a more convoluted route to access the cycle track which would significantly increase the journey time for cyclists wanting to use protected cycle infrastructure. 1 The route goes through Stoke Floods Green and runs along the Mayflower Drive estate before crossing the River Sowe, running along allotments to the west of Clifford Bridge Road	The route features multiple deviations as it passes into and through Stoke Floods Green, as well as deviating to follow the edge of the residential area and allotments to the west of Clifford Bridge Road. Compared to the red and pink route the arrangement could be confusing to follow and would be reliant on a strong wayfinding strategy. The route also hits multiple decisions points through Stoke Floods Green which could be confusing for some users	The route goes through a section of dense woodland when crossing the River Sowe to the south - it is not eith guidelines is deliverable. Tree roots can cause long term damage to a cycle track.	Whilst the route could be considered as more direct for some users between specific origins and destinations, this would create an overall more convoluted route for those existing residents in Binley, or those wishing to travel to the Business Park.	The route features no junctions or crossing for cyclists to have to stop at apart from crossing Clifford Bridge Road to access the existing cycle track at the Clifford Bridge Road/Dorchester Way junction	Design has the potential to provide protection of cyclists from motor traffic apart from low trafficked streets.	To achieve desirable minimum cycle widths of 3m (for shared use or a bidirectional cycle track) this could require significant tree removal in the woodland sections of the route which may not be feasible and could result in substandard cycle infrastructure widths. Evidence would be required to amend this score.	The southern section of the route which follows along Mayflower Drive has high levels of natural surveillance as houses front onto the road, however the route northwards of Dunrose Close has very limited natural surveillance. There is street lighting present on Mayflower Drive and Clifford Bridge Road however the section of the route that runs along Stoke Floods Green has no lighting
	The route follows Mayflower Drive at it's southern extent, passing through a residential area before crossing the River Sowe through Stoke Floods Green, running along allotments to the west of Clifford Bridge Road and northwards on Clifford Bridge Road. Whilst the route could be considered more direct to a specific destination, the route does not pass through residential area of Binley so many residents would have to take a more convoluted route to access the cycle track which would significantly increase the journey time for cyclists wanting to use protected cycle infrastructure. 1 The route goes through Stoke Floods Green and runs along the Mayflower Drive estate before crossing the River Sowe, running along allotments to the west of Clifford Bridge Road and northwards on the Clifford Bridge Road.	The route features multiple deviations as it passes into and through Stoke Floods Green, as well as deviating to follow the edge of the residential area and allotments to the west of Clifford Bridge Road. Compared to the red and pink route the arrangement could be confusing to follow and would be reliant on a strong wayfinding strategy. The route also hits multiple decisions points through Stoke Floods Green which could be confusing for some users 1	The route goes through a section of dense woodland when crossing the River Sowe to the south - it is not eith guidelines is deliverable. Tree roots can cause long term damage to a cycle track.	Whilst the route could be considered as more direct for some users between specific origins and destinations, this would create an overall more convoluted route for those existing residents in Binley, or those wishing to travel to the Business Park.	The route features no junctions or crossing for cyclists to have to stop at apart from crossing Clifford Bridge Road to access the existing cycle track at the Clifford Bridge Road/Dorchester Way junction	Design has the potential to provide protection of cyclists from motor traffic apart from low trafficked streets.	To achieve desirable minimum cycle widths of 3m (for shared use or a bidirectional cycle track) this could require significant tree removal in the woodland sections of the route which may not be feasible and could result in substandard cycle infrastructure widths. Evidence would be required to amend this score.	The southern section of the route which follows along Mayflower Drive has high levels of natural surveillance as houses front onto the road, however the route northwards of Dunrose Close has very limited natural surveillance. There is street lighting present on Mayflower Drive and Clifford Bridge Road however the section of the route that runs along Stoke Floods Green has no lighting
Green	The route follows Mayflower Drive at it's southern extent, passing through a residential area before crossing the River Sowe through Stoke Floods Green, running along allotments to the west of Clifford Bridge Road and northwards on Clifford Bridge Road. Whilst the route could be considered more direct to a specific destination, the route does not pass through residential area of Binley so many residents would have to take a more convoluted route to access the cycle track which would significantly increase the journey time for cyclists wanting to use protected cycle infrastructure. 1 The route goes through Stoke Floods Green and runs along the Mayflower Drive estate before crossing the River Sowe, running along allotments to the west of Clifford Bridge Road and northwards on the Clifford Bridge Road. Whilst the route could be considered more	The route features multiple deviations as it passes into and through Stoke Floods Green, as well as deviating to follow the edge of the residential area and allotments to the west of Clifford Bridge Road. Compared to the red and pink route the arrangement could be confusing to follow and would be reliant on a strong wayfinding strategy. The route also hits multiple decisions points through Stoke Floods Green which could be confusing for some users 1	The route goes through a section of dense woodland when crossing the River Sowe to the south - it is not eith guidelines is deliverable. Tree roots can cause long term damage to a cycle track.	Whilst the route could be considered as more direct for some users between specific origins and destinations, this would create an overall more convoluted route for those existing residents in Binley, or those wishing to travel to the Business Park.	The route features no junctions or crossing for cyclists to have to stop at apart from crossing Clifford Bridge Road to access the existing cycle track at the Clifford Bridge Road/Dorchester Way junction	Design has the potential to provide protection of cyclists from motor traffic apart from low trafficked streets.	To achieve desirable minimum cycle widths of 3m (for shared use or a bidirectional cycle track) this could require significant tree removal in the woodland sections of the route which may not be feasible and could result in substandard cycle infrastructure widths. Evidence would be required to amend this score. 0	The southern section of the route which follows along Mayflower Drive has high levels of natural surveillance as houses front onto the road, however the route northwards of Dunrose Close has very limited natural surveillance. There is street lighting present on Mayflower Drive and Clifford Bridge Road however the section of the route that runs along Stoke Floods Green has no lighting
	The route follows Mayflower Drive at it's southern extent, passing through a residential area before crossing the River Sowe through Stoke Floods Green, running along allotments to the west of Clifford Bridge Road and northwards on Clifford Bridge Road. Whilst the route could be considered more direct to a specific destination, the route does not pass through residential area of Binley so many residents would have to take a more convoluted route to access the cycle track which would significantly increase the journey time for cyclists wanting to use protected cycle infrastructure. 1 The route goes through Stoke Floods Green and runs along the Mayflower Drive estate before crossing the River Sowe, running along allotments to the west of Clifford Bridge Road and northwards on the Clifford Bridge Road. Whilst the route could be considered more direct to a specific destination, the route does	The route features multiple deviations as it passes into and through Stoke Floods Green, as well as deviating to follow the edge of the residential area and allotments to the west of Clifford Bridge Road. Compared to the red and pink route the arrangement could be confusing to follow and would be reliant on a strong wayfinding strategy. The route also hits multiple decisions points through Stoke Floods Green which could be confusing for some users 1 The route features multiple deviations as it passes into and through Barbican Rise and Dunrose Close, and follows along the River	The route goes through a section of dense woodland when crossing the River Sowe to the south - it is not clear if the full effective width in accordance with guidelines is deliverable. Tree roots can cause long term damage to a cycle track.	Whilst the route could be considered as more direct for some users between specific origins and destinations, this would create an overall more convoluted route for those existing residents in Binley, or those wishing to travel to the Business Park.	The route features no junctions or crossing for cyclists to have to stop at apart from crossing Clifford Bridge Road to access the existing cycle track at the Clifford Bridge Road/Dorchester Way junction	Design has the potential to provide protection of cyclists from motor traffic apart from low trafficked streets.	To achieve desirable minimum cycle widths of 3m (for shared use or a bidirectional cycle track) this could require significant tree removal in the woodland sections of the route which may not be feasible and could result in substandard cycle infrastructure widths. Evidence would be required to amend this score. O To achieve desirable minimum cycle widths of 3m (for shared use or a bidirectional cycle	The southern section of the route which follows along Mayflower Drive has high levels of natural surveillance as houses front onto the road, however the route northwards of Dunrose Close has very limited natural surveillance. There is street lighting present on Mayflower Drive and Clifford Bridge Road however the section of the route that runs along Stoke Floods Green has no lighting
	The route follows Mayflower Drive at it's southern extent, passing through a residential area before crossing the River Sowe through Stoke Floods Green, running along allotments to the west of Clifford Bridge Road and northwards on Clifford Bridge Road. Whilst the route could be considered more direct to a specific destination, the route does not pass through residential area of Binley so many residents would have to take a more convoluted route to access the cycle track which would significantly increase the journey time for cyclists wanting to use protected cycle infrastructure. 1 The route goes through Stoke Floods Green and runs along the Mayflower Drive estate before crossing the River Sowe, running along allotments to the west of Clifford Bridge Road and northwards on the Clifford Bridge Road. Whilst the route could be considered more direct to a specific destination, the route does not pass through residential area of Binley so	The route features multiple deviations as it passes into and through Stoke Floods Green, as well as deviating to follow the edge of the residential area and allotments to the west of Clifford Bridge Road. Compared to the red and pink route the arrangement could be confusing to follow and would be reliant on a strong wayfinding strategy. The route also hits multiple decisions points through Stoke Floods Green which could be confusing for some users 1 The route features multiple deviations as it passes into and through Barbican Rise and Dunrose Close, and follows along the River Sowe for a short distance before turning	The route goes through a section of dense woodland when crossing the River Sowe to the south - it is not with guidelines if deliverable. Tree roots can cause long term damage to a cycle track. 1 The route goes through a section of dense	Whilst the route could be considered as more direct for some users between specific origins and destinations, this would create an overall more convoluted route for those existing residents in Binley, or those wishing to travel to the Business Park. 0 Whilst the route could be considered as more	The route features no junctions or crossing for cyclists to have to stop at apart from crossing Clifford Bridge Road to access the existing cycle track at the Clifford Bridge Road/Dorchester Way junction	Design has the potential to provide protection of cyclists from motor traffic apart from low trafficked streets.	To achieve desirable minimum cycle widths of 3m (for shared use or a bidirectional cycle track) this could require significant tree removal in the woodland sections of the route which may not be feasible and could result in substandard cycle infrastructure widths. Evidence would be required to amend this score. 0 To achieve desirable minimum cycle widths of 3m (for shared use or a bidirectional cycle track) this could require significant tree	The southern section of the route which follows along Mayflower Drive has high levels of natural surveillance as houses front onto the road, however the route northwards of Dunrose Close has very limited natural surveillance. There is street lighting present on Mayflower Drive and Clifford Bridge Road however the section of the route that runs along Stoke Floods Green has no lighting 0
	The route follows Mayflower Drive at it's southern extent, passing through a residential area before crossing the River Sowe through Stoke Floods Green, running along allotments to the west of Clifford Bridge Road and northwards on Clifford Bridge Road. Whilst the route could be considered more direct to a specific destination, the route does not pass through residential area of Binley so many residents would have to take a more convoluted route to access the cycle track which would significantly increase the journey time for cyclists wanting to use protected cycle infrastructure. 1 The route goes through Stoke Floods Green and runs along the Mayflower Drive estate before crossing the River Sowe, running along allotments to the west of Clifford Bridge Road and northwards on the Clifford Bridge Road. Whilst the route could be considered more direct to a specific destination, the route does not pass through residential area of Binley so many residents would have to take a more	The route features multiple deviations as it passes into and through Stoke Floods Green, as well as deviating to follow the edge of the residential area and allotments to the west of Clifford Bridge Road. Compared to the red and pink route the arrangement could be confusing to follow and would be reliant on a strong wayfinding strategy. The route also hits multiple decisions points through Stoke Floods Green which could be confusing for some users 1 The route features multiple deviations as it passes into and through Barbican Rise and Dunrose Close, and follows along the River	The route goes through a section of dense woodland when crossing the River Sowe to the south - it is not with guidelines if deliverable. Tree roots can cause long term damage to a cycle track. 1 The route goes through a section of dense	Whilst the route could be considered as more direct for some users between specific origins and destinations, this would create an overall more convoluted route for those existing residents in Binley, or those wishing to travel to the Business Park.	The route features no junctions or crossing for cyclists to have to stop at apart from crossing Clifford Bridge Road to access the existing cycle track at the Clifford Bridge Road/Dorchester Way junction	Design has the potential to provide protection of cyclists from motor traffic apart from low trafficked streets.	To achieve desirable minimum cycle widths of 3m (for shared use or a bidirectional cycle track) this could require significant tree removal in the woodland sections of the route which may not be feasible and could result in substandard cycle infrastructure widths. Evidence would be required to amend this score. O To achieve desirable minimum cycle widths of 3m (for shared use or a bidirectional cycle	The southern section of the route which follows along Mayflower Drive has high levels of natural surveillance as houses front onto the road, however the route northwards of Dunrose Close has very limited natural surveillance. There is street lighting present on Mayflower Drive and Clifford Bridge Road however the section of the route that runs along Stoke Floods Green has no lighting
	The route follows Mayflower Drive at it's southern extent, passing through a residential area before crossing the River Sowe through Stoke Floods Green, running along allotments to the west of Clifford Bridge Road and northwards on Clifford Bridge Road. Whilst the route could be considered more direct to a specific destination, the route does not pass through residential area of Binley so many residents would have to take a more convoluted route to access the cycle track which would significantly increase the journey time for cyclists wanting to use protected cycle infrastructure. 1 The route goes through Stoke Floods Green and runs along the Mayflower Drive estate before crossing the River Sowe, running along allotments to the west of Clifford Bridge Road and northwards on the Clifford Bridge Road. Whilst the route could be considered more direct to a specific destination, the route does not pass through residential area of Binley so many residents would have to take a more convoluted route to access the cycle track	The route features multiple deviations as it passes into and through Stoke Floods Green, as well as deviating to follow the edge of the residential area and allotments to the west of Clifford Bridge Road. Compared to the red and pink route the arrangement could be confusing to follow and would be reliant on a strong wayfinding strategy. The route also hits multiple decisions points through Stoke Floods Green which could be confusing for some users 1	The route goes through a section of dense woodland when crossing the River Sowe to the south - it is not clear if the full effective width in accordance with guidelines is deliverable. Tree roots can cause long term damage to a cycle track. 1 The route goes through a section of dense woodland when crossing the River Sowe to the	Whilst the route could be considered as more direct for some users between specific origins and destinations, this would create an overall more convoluted route for those existing residents in Binley, or those wishing to travel to the Business Park. 0 Whilst the route could be considered as more direct for some users between specific origins	The route features no junctions or crossing for cyclists to have to stop at apart from crossing Clifford Bridge Road to access the existing cycle track at the Clifford Bridge Road/Dorchester Way junction 2 The route features no junctions or crossing for	Design has the potential to provide protection of cyclists from motor traffic apart from low trafficked streets.	To achieve desirable minimum cycle widths of 3m (for shared use or a bidirectional cycle track) this could require significant tree removal in the woodland sections of the route which may not be feasible and could result in substandard cycle infrastructre widths. Evidence would be required to amend this score. O To achieve desirable minimum cycle widths of 3m (for shared use or a bidirectional cycle track) this could require significant tree removal in the woodland sections of the route which may not be feasible and could result in	The southern section of the route which follows along Mayflower Drive has high levels of natural surveillance as houses front onto the road, however the route northwards of Dunrose Close has very limited natural surveillance. There is street lighting present on Mayflower Drive and Clifford Bridge Road however the section of the route that runs along Stoke Floods Green has no lighting 0 The route has very limited natural surveillance outside of Barbican Rise and Dunrose Close,
	The route follows Mayflower Drive at it's southern extent, passing through a residential area before crossing the River Sowe through Stoke Floods Green, running along allotments to the west of Clifford Bridge Road and northwards on Clifford Bridge Road. Whilst the route could be considered more direct to a specific destination, the route does not pass through residential area of Binley so many residents would have to take a more convoluted route to access the cycle track which would significantly increase the journey time for cyclists wanting to use protected cycle infrastructure. 1 The route goes through Stoke Floods Green and runs along the Mayflower Drive estate before crossing the River Sowe, running along allotments to the west of Clifford Bridge Road and northwards on the Clifford Bridge Road. Whilst the route could be considered more direct to a specific destination, the route does not pass through residential area of Binley so many residents would have to take a more convoluted route to access the cycle track	The route features multiple deviations as it passes into and through Stoke Floods Green, as well as deviating to follow the edge of the residential area and allotments to the west of Clifford Bridge Road. Compared to the red and pink route the arrangement could be confusing to follow and would be reliant on a strong wayfinding strategy. The route also hits multiple decisions points through Stoke Floods Green which could be confusing for some users 1 The route features multiple deviations as it passes into and through Barbican Rise and Dunrose Close, and follows along the River Sowe for a short distance before turning eastwards before Binley allotments. Compared to the other route options the arrangement is confusing and features multiple turns which	The route goes through a section of dense woodland when crossing the River Sowe to the south - it is not clear if the full effective width into crots can cause long term damage to a cycle track. 1 The route goes through a section of dense woodland when crossing the River Sowe to the south - it is not clear if the full effective width	Whilst the route could be considered as more direct for some users between specific origins and destinations, this would create an overall more convoluted route for those existing residents in Binley, or those wishing to travel to the Business Park. O Whilst the route could be considered as more direct for some users between specific origins and destinations, this would create an overall	The route features no junctions or crossing for cyclists to have to stop at apart from crossing Clifford Bridge Road to access the existing cycle track at the Clifford Bridge Road/Dorchester Way junction 2 The route features no junctions or crossing for cyclists to have to stop at apart from crossing Clifford Bridge Road to access the existing cycle	Design has the potential to provide protection of cyclists from motor traffic apart from low trafficked streets.	To achieve desirable minimum cycle widths of 3m (for shared use or a bidirectional cycle track) this could require significant tree removal in the woodland sections of the route which may not be feasible and could result in substandard cycle infrastructre widths. Evidence would be required to amend this score. O To achieve desirable minimum cycle widths of 3m (for shared use or a bidirectional cycle track) this could require significant tree removal in the woodland sections of the route which may not be feasible and could result in	The southern section of the route which follows along Mayflower Drive has high levels of natural surveillance as houses front onto the road, however the route northwards of Dunrose Close has very limited natural surveillance. There is street lighting present on Mayflower Drive and Clifford Bridge Road however the section of the route that runs along Stoke Floods Green has no lighting 0 The route has very limited natural surveillance outside of Barbican Rise and Dunrose Close, and is not lit with the exception of the small
	The route follows Mayflower Drive at it's southern extent, passing through a residential area before crossing the River Sowe through Stoke Floods Green, running along allotments to the west of Clifford Bridge Road and northwards on Clifford Bridge Road. Whilst the route could be considered more direct to a specific destination, the route does not pass through residential area of Binley so many residents would have to take a more convoluted route to access the cycle track which would significantly increase the journey time for cyclists wanting to use protected cycle infrastructure. 1 The route goes through Stoke Floods Green and runs along the Mayflower Drive estate before crossing the River Sowe, running along allotments to the west of Clifford Bridge Road and northwards on the Clifford Bridge Road and northwards on the Clifford Bridge Road and northwards on the Clifford Bridge Road. Whilst the route could be considered more direct to a specific destination, the route does not pass through residential area of Binley so many residents would have to take a more convoluted route to access the cycle track which would significantly increase the journey	The route features multiple deviations as it passes into and through Stoke Floods Green, as well as deviating to follow the edge of the residential area and allotments to the west of Clifford Bridge Road. Compared to the red and pink route the arrangement could be confusing to follow and would be reliant on a strong wayfinding strategy. The route also hits multiple decisions points through Stoke Floods Green which could be confusing for some users 1 The route features multiple deviations as it passes into and through Barbican Rise and Dunrose Close, and follows along the River Sowe for a short distance before turning eastwards before Binley allotments. Compared to the other route options the arrangement is confusing and features multiple turns which	The route goes through a section of dense woodland when crossing the River Sowe to the south - it is not clear if the full effective width in accordance with guidelines is deliverable. Tree roots can cause long term damage to a cycle track. 1 The route goes through a section of dense woodland when crossing the River Sowe to the south - it is not clear if the full effective width in accordance with guidelines is deliverable.	Whilst the route could be considered as more direct for some users between specific origins and destinations, this would create an overall more convoluted route for those existing residents in Binley, or those wishing to travel to the Business Park. O Whilst the route could be considered as more direct for some users between specific origins and destinations, this would create an overall more convoluted route for those existing	The route features no junctions or crossing for cyclists to have to stop at apart from crossing Clifford Bridge Road to access the existing cycle track at the Clifford Bridge Road/Dorchester Way junction 2 The route features no junctions or crossing for cyclists to have to stop at apart from crossing Clifford Bridge Road to access the existing cycle	Design has the potential to provide protection of cyclists from motor traffic apart from low trafficked streets.	To achieve desirable minimum cycle widths of 3m (for shared use or a bidirectional cycle track) this could require significant tree removal in the woodland sections of the route which may not be feasible and could result in substandard cycle infrastructure widths. Evidence would be required to amend this score. O To achieve desirable minimum cycle widths of 3m (for shared use or a bidirectional cycle track) this could require significant tree removal in the woodland sections of the route which may not be feasible and could result in substandard cycle infrastructure widths.	The southern section of the route which follows along Mayflower Drive has high levels of natural surveillance as houses front onto the road, however the route northwards of Dunrose Close has very limited natural surveillance. There is street lighting present on Mayflower Drive and Clifford Bridge Road however the section of the route that runs along Stoke Floods Green has no lighting 0 The route has very limited natural surveillance outside of Barbican Rise and Dunrose Close, and is not lit with the exception of the small number of residential streets and Clifford

		Comfortable			Attractive
	Good quality, well maintained - smooth			Cycle infrastructure should help to deliver	Sometimes well-intentioned signs and
gn Option	surfaces,			public spaces that are well designed and	markings for cycling are not only difficult and		Consideration of compliance to LCWIP and adequate width for the volume of users,	Uncomfortable transitions should be avoided	Flood risk?	finished in attractive materials and be places	uncomfortable to use, but are also	Should minimise vegetation removal	connections to existing infrastructure minimal stopping and starting Avoiding steep gradients.			that people want to spend time using.	unattractive additions to the street scape.
	Attorium discorp disasteritati
	It is assumed that the route surface will be of a good quality and well maintained given that it would be adjacent to an existing road and would have potential for cleaning and maintenance when Clifford Bridge Road is maintained. Given the width of the road it is ing alignment)	considered that the desirable minimum				The route follows the existing Clifford Bridge footway, cycle track and carriageway widths				Road and continues on a straight line from the can be achieved. Areas of the route have a				· .	There are a number of mature trees present on maximum slope of just over 5% which is		Along the route between the Clifford Bridge	Whilst it is assumed high quality materials		either side of Clifford Bridge Road so some
	a small section and based from desktop studies,	The route would be consistent in it's provision	Road/B4082 junction and the Clifford Bridge Road/Bridgeacre Gardens there is a low chance	would be used in the build out, there is limited	understand and not overly confusing for users. ON the basis that this route is very direct, it is	street trees have a limited lifespan. The scheme the gradient does not appear to exceed 6.3%.	The state of the s	of flooding	improvements.	likely that minimal signage would be required.		The route is consistent with the LCWIP.
	1	2	2	1	2	1	2
			The length of the River Stowe is classed as a Pink	The route has several steep gradients, and undulates throughout resulting in no		high flood risk and the southern section of the route passes through low flood risk areas. The		There are several decision points on the route	The route covers significant open green space continuous flat provision. Given the amount of		only section of the route that is not within a		-	so would require vegetation removal for a large trees that are adjacent to the route, there is	The route transitions between different	flood risk area is the northern most section,		. , , , ,	extent of the route. This could include the possibilities for the roots of the trees to impact	typologies, resulting in multiple transitions.	where the route deviates from the River Stowe	The route travels through a public park where	Road; crossing the carriageway over Clifford	removal of a high number of trees depending Careful design would be required to ensure	towards the Dorchester Way/Clifford Bridge	the scheme could contribute to other public	Bridge Road and to indicate to cyclists to come		The route deviates from the LCWIP however uneven surface.	these are comfortable.	Road junction 0	realm improvements	off of the River Stow	replanted where not possible to avoid	does connect two points.
	The mute has several steen gradients, and The route has several steep gradients, and undulates throughout resulting in no een	undulates throughout resulting in no continuous flat provision. Given that the route
reen	undulates throughout resulting in no continuous flat provision. Given that the route crosses the River Sowe through a woodland
reen	undulates throughout resulting in no continuous flat provision. Given that the route crosses the River Sowe through a woodland area, there are possibilities for the roots of the				Cignificant wayfinding would be consisted as	The route covers some open green space so ireen	undulates throughout resulting in no continuous flat provision. Given that the route crosses the River Sowe through a woodland area, there are possibilities for the roots of the trees to impact the cycle route surface over	The route transitions between different	At the southwestern extent of the route along			would require vegetation removal for a large
Green	undulates throughout resulting in no continuous flat provision. Given that the route crosses the River Sowe through a woodland area, there are possibilities for the roots of the trees to impact the cycle route surface over time, creating an uneven surface. For the	The route transitions between different typologies, resulting in multiple transitions.	At the southwestern extent of the route along Mayflower Drive the area is in a high risk	The route travels through a public park where	Significant wayfinding would be required given how much the route deviates, action should be taken to ensure that whilst the provision	would require vegetation removal for a large
reen	undulates throughout resulting in no continuous flat provision. Given that the route crosses the River Sowe through a woodland area, there are possibilities for the roots of the trees to impact the cycle route surface over time, creating an uneven surface. For the section of the route that crosses the River Sowe, there could be difficulties accessing this	typologies, resulting in multiple transitions. Careful design would be required to ensure	Mayflower Drive the area is in a high risk flooding area. The delivery of a bridge in this	the scheme could contribute to other public	how much the route deviates, action should be taken to ensure that whilst the provision	would require vegetation removal for a large extent of the route. This could include the removal of a high number of trees depending on the route alignment, which should be	The route deviates from the LCWIP however
een	undulates throughout resulting in no continuous flat provision. Given that the route crosses the River Sowe through a woodland area, there are possibilities for the roots of the trees to impact the cycle route surface over time, creating an uneven surface. For the section of the route that crosses the River Sowe, there could be difficulties accessing this area for continual maintenance	typologies, resulting in multiple transitions. Careful design would be required to ensure these are comfortable.	Mayflower Drive the area is in a high risk	the scheme could contribute to other public realm improvements	how much the route deviates, action should be taken to ensure that whilst the provision remains consistent this is not unsightly to the streetscape	would require vegetation removal for a large extent of the route. This could include the removal of a high number of trees depending	does connect two points.
een	undulates throughout resulting in no continuous flat provision. Given that the route crosses the River Sowe through a woodland area, there are possibilities for the roots of the trees to impact the cycle route surface over time, creating an uneven surface. For the section of the route that crosses the River Sowe, there could be difficulties accessing this	typologies, resulting in multiple transitions. Careful design would be required to ensure	Mayflower Drive the area is in a high risk flooding area. The delivery of a bridge in this	the scheme could contribute to other public	how much the route deviates, action should be taken to ensure that whilst the provision remains consistent this is not unsightly to the	would require vegetation removal for a large extent of the route. This could include the removal of a high number of trees depending on the route alignment, which should be en	undulates throughout resulting in no continuous flat provision. Given that the route crosses the River Sowe through a woodland area, there are possibilities for the roots of the trees to impact the cycle route surface over time, creating an uneven surface. For the section of the route that crosses the River Sowe, there could be difficulties accessing this area for continual maintenance	typologies, resulting in multiple transitions. Careful design would be required to ensure these are comfortable.	Mayflower Drive the area is in a high risk flooding area. The delivery of a bridge in this	the scheme could contribute to other public realm improvements	how much the route deviates, action should be taken to ensure that whilst the provision remains consistent this is not unsightly to the streetscape	would require vegetation removal for a large extent of the route. This could include the removal of a high number of trees depending on the route alignment, which should be	does connect two points.
en	undulates throughout resulting in no continuous flat provision. Given that the route crosses the River Sowe through a woodland area, there are possibilities for the roots of the trees to impact the cycle route surface over time, creating an uneven surface. For the section of the route that crosses the River Sowe, there could be difficulties accessing this area for continual maintenance	typologies, resulting in multiple transitions. Careful design would be required to ensure these are comfortable.	Mayflower Drive the area is in a high risk flooding area. The delivery of a bridge in this	the scheme could contribute to other public realm improvements	how much the route deviates, action should be taken to ensure that whilst the provision remains consistent this is not unsightly to the streetscape	would require vegetation removal for a large extent of the route. This could include the removal of a high number of trees depending on the route alignment, which should be	does connect two points.
en	undulates throughout resulting in no continuous flat provision. Given that the route crosses the River Sowe through a woodland area, there are possibilities for the roots of the trees to impact the cycle route surface over time, creating an uneven surface. For the section of the route that crosses the River Sowe, there could be difficulties accessing this area for continual maintenance	typologies, resulting in multiple transitions. Careful design would be required to ensure these are comfortable.	Mayflower Drive the area is in a high risk flooding area. The delivery of a bridge in this	the scheme could contribute to other public realm improvements	how much the route deviates, action should be taken to ensure that whilst the provision remains consistent this is not unsightly to the streetscape	would require vegetation removal for a large extent of the route. This could include the removal of a high number of trees depending on the route alignment, which should be	does connect two points.
	undulates throughout resulting in no continuous flat provision. Given that the route crosses the River Sowe through a woodland area, there are possibilities for the roots of the trees to impact the cycle route surface over time, creating an uneven surface. For the section of the route that crosses the River Sowe, there could be difficulties accessing this area for continual maintenance	typologies, resulting in multiple transitions. Careful design would be required to ensure these are comfortable.	Mayflower Drive the area is in a high risk flooding area. The delivery of a bridge in this	the scheme could contribute to other public realm improvements	how much the route deviates, action should be taken to ensure that whilst the provision remains consistent this is not unsightly to the streetscape	would require vegetation removal for a large extent of the route. This could include the removal of a high number of trees depending on the route alignment, which should be	does connect two points.
	undulates throughout resulting in no continuous flat provision. Given that the route crosses the River Sowe through a woodland area, there are possibilities for the roots of the trees to impact the cycle route surface over time, creating an uneven surface. For the section of the route that crosses the River Sowe, there could be difficulties accessing this area for continual maintenance 1 The route has several steep gradients, and undulates throughout resulting in no continuous flat provision. Given that the route crosses the River Sowe through a woodland	typologies, resulting in multiple transitions. Careful design would be required to ensure these are comfortable.	Mayflower Drive the area is in a high risk flooding area. The delivery of a bridge in this	the scheme could contribute to other public realm improvements	how much the route deviates, action should be taken to ensure that whilst the provision remains consistent this is not unsightly to the streetscape	would require vegetation removal for a large extent of the route. This could include the removal of a high number of trees depending on the route alignment, which should be	does connect two points.
	undulates throughout resulting in no continuous flat provision. Given that the route crosses the River Sowe through a woodland area, there are possibilities for the roots of the trees to impact the cycle route surface over time, creating an uneven surface. For the section of the route that crosses the River Sowe, there could be difficulties accessing this area for continual maintenance 1 The route has several steep gradients, and undulates throughout resulting in no continuous flat provision. Given that the route crosses the River Sowe through a woodland area, there are possibilities for the roots of the	typologies, resulting in multiple transitions. Careful design would be required to ensure these are comfortable.	Mayflower Drive the area is in a high risk flooding area. The delivery of a bridge in this	the scheme could contribute to other public realm improvements	how much the route deviates, action should be taken to ensure that whilst the provision remains consistent this is not unsightly to the streetscape 0	would require vegetation removal for a large extent of the route. This could include the removal of a high number of trees depending on the route alignment, which should be replanted where not possible to avoid 1 The route covers significant open green space	does connect two points.
	undulates throughout resulting in no continuous flat provision. Given that the route crosses the River Sowe through a woodland area, there are possibilities for the roots of the trees to impact the cycle route surface over time, creating an uneven surface. For the section of the route that crosses the River Sowe, there could be difficulties accessing this area for continual maintenance 1 The route has several steep gradients, and undulates throughout resulting in no continuous flat provision. Given that the route crosses the River Sowe through a woodland area, there are possibilities for the roots of the trees to impact the cycle route surface over	typologies, resulting in multiple transitions. Careful design would be required to ensure these are comfortable.	Mayflower Drive the area is in a high risk flooding area. The delivery of a bridge in this section would be costly and likely be unviable. 1	the scheme could contribute to other public realm improvements	how much the route deviates, action should be taken to ensure that whilst the provision remains consistent this is not unsightly to the streetscape 0 Significant wayfinding would be required given	would require vegetation removal for a large extent of the route. This could include the removal of a high number of trees depending on the route alignment, which should be replanted where not possible to avoid 1 The route covers significant open green space so would require vegetation removal for a large	does connect two points.
	undulates throughout resulting in no continuous flat provision. Given that the route crosses the River Sowe through a woodland area, there are possibilities for the roots of the trees to impact the cycle route surface over time, creating an uneven surface. For the section of the route that crosses the River Sowe, there could be difficulties accessing this area for continual maintenance 1 The route has several steep gradients, and undulates throughout resulting in no continuous flat provision. Given that the route crosses the River Sowe through a woodland area, there are possibilities for the roots of the trees to impact the cycle route surface over time, creating an uneven surface. For the	typologies, resulting in multiple transitions. Careful design would be required to ensure these are comfortable. 1 The route transitions between different	Mayflower Drive the area is in a high risk flooding area. The delivery of a bridge in this section would be costly and likely be unviable. 1 The southern section of the route, prior to	the scheme could contribute to other public realm improvements 2	how much the route deviates, action should be taken to ensure that whilst the provision remains consistent this is not unsightly to the streetscape 0 Significant wayfinding would be required given how much the route deviates, action should be	would require vegetation removal for a large extent of the route. This could include the removal of a high number of trees depending on the route alignment, which should be replanted where not possible to avoid 1 The route covers significant open green space so would require vegetation removal for a large extent of the route. This could include the	does connect two points.
	undulates throughout resulting in no continuous flat provision. Given that the route crosses the River Sowe through a woodland area, there are possibilities for the roots of the trees to impact the cycle route surface over time, creating an uneven surface. For the section of the route that crosses the River Sowe, there could be difficulties accessing this area for continual maintenance 1 The route has several steep gradients, and undulates throughout resulting in no continuous flat provision. Given that the route crosses the River Sowe through a woodland area, there are possibilities for the roots of the trees to impact the cycle route surface over time, creating an uneven surface. For the section of the route that crosses the River	typologies, resulting in multiple transitions. Careful design would be required to ensure these are comfortable. 1 The route transitions between different typologies, resulting in multiple transitions.	Mayflower Drive the area is in a high risk flooding area. The delivery of a bridge in this section would be costly and likely be unviable. 1	the scheme could contribute to other public realm improvements 2 The route travels through a public park where	how much the route deviates, action should be taken to ensure that whilst the provision remains consistent this is not unsightly to the streetscape 0 Significant wayfinding would be required given how much the route deviates, action should be taken to ensure that whilst the provision	would require vegetation removal for a large extent of the route. This could include the removal of a high number of trees depending on the route alignment, which should be replanted where not possible to avoid 1 The route covers significant open green space so would require vegetation removal for a large extent of the route. This could include the removal of a high number of trees depending	does connect two points.
Green	undulates throughout resulting in no continuous flat provision. Given that the route crosses the River Sowe through a woodland area, there are possibilities for the roots of the trees to impact the cycle route surface over time, creating an uneven surface. For the section of the route that crosses the River Sowe, there could be difficulties accessing this area for continual maintenance 1 The route has several steep gradients, and undulates throughout resulting in no continuous flat provision. Given that the route crosses the River Sowe through a woodland area, there are possibilities for the roots of the trees to impact the cycle route surface over time, creating an uneven surface. For the section of the route that crosses the River	typologies, resulting in multiple transitions. Careful design would be required to ensure these are comfortable. 1 The route transitions between different	Mayflower Drive the area is in a high risk flooding area. The delivery of a bridge in this section would be costly and likely be unviable. 1 The southern section of the route, prior to Barbican Rise is in a low risk flood area. The	the scheme could contribute to other public realm improvements 2	how much the route deviates, action should be taken to ensure that whilst the provision remains consistent this is not unsightly to the streetscape O Significant wayfinding would be required given how much the route deviates, action should be taken to ensure that whilst the provision remains consistent this is not unsightly to the	would require vegetation removal for a large extent of the route. This could include the removal of a high number of trees depending on the route alignment, which should be replanted where not possible to avoid 1 The route covers significant open green space so would require vegetation removal for a large extent of the route. This could include the	does connect two points.